Clearances very light, at 174,000 bushels; local cash sales, 180,000 bushels; seaboard, 290,000 bushels Charters were for 350,000 bushels at 2c to Buffalo The increase of 2,182,600 bushels in the visible sup and of $22,000 bushels in the English vible acted as a wet blanket on the market. There was enough taking of profits to lose half of the adcance. Nevertheless, the market closed strong and the most influential as well as the most active local interests are friendly. October opened at 76 to Thic sold from 76c to Time and Thic, and closed

Corn made slight response to the wheat strength Corn made valued to the wheat strength early and turned weak later. Closings were practically the lowest prices of the day. Local cars, 1,58 were 506 more than expected. A part of the increase was because of two days' inspection on four big corn roads. There was a very poor demand for cash corn. Local sales were only 300,000 sushels. Charters were for 400,000 bushels. The seaboard reported 416.000 bushels sold. Estimated secrepts for to-morrow, 516 cars. October opened a solo at 25 oc and 38 oc to 38 oc, and closed at

Oats were a faint echo of corn. Trading was light Deteber opened and closed at Plac and sold as high as Ec. Cash sales, 200,000 bushels; charters, 100,000

Fluxseed opened sharply higher on the killing Fixseed opened sharply higher on the killing nests reported all over the Northwest. It came back to Saturday's closing prices for October and a within 2c of them for cash September. Later cash and September closed at 21 57. October, 21 51. October opened at 21 56. Receipts at the three leading points were 215 cars, against 242 cars a year ago. Provisions were higher. In addition to further esserting by October shorts in pork and September shorts in this there was good general buying of January product by the public at large. The cash trade was only fair.
